Today in Water Guest
Talk-Show Style Seminar is Nov. 13 at Mojave Water Agency

APPLE VALLEY, CA — Mojave Water Agency (MWA) will welcome Cucamonga Valley Water District Board Member and former Association of California Water Agencies (ACWA) President Kathleen Tieg as the next Today in Water special guest.

Hosted by Lance Eckhart, MWA's Director of Basin Management and Resource Planning, this talk-show style seminar will take place at 8:30 a.m. Nov. 13 inside the Agency's Boardroom and will include free coffee and donuts.

Pairing extensive experience with comprehensive institutional knowledge, Tieg has had an illustrious career in the water industry, including being elected to a two-year term in 2015 as ACWA's President, the largest statewide coalition of public water agencies in the country, as well as serving on the Cucamonga Valley Water District Board of Directors since November 2005.

While at Cucamonga Valley Water District, she has held the title of Board President and Vice President. Prior to her Board service, she retired from a career in water resource management, working for a wholesale water agency for more than 30 years. During this time, Tiegs was instrumental in establishing the Water Education Water Awareness Committee (WEWAC), a consortium of water agencies promoting the efficient use of water, increasing public awareness, and expanding partnerships with educators to incorporate the conservation message into school curriculum.

Among her key initiatives is the creation of a program to encourage women in water to become more involved and seek key leadership positions to help solve California's water challenge.

Mojave Water Agency is located at 13846 Conference Center Drive, Apple Valley. Those interested in attending Today in Water need to RSVP by contacting Public Information Specialist Bryan Kawasaki at bkawasaki@mojavewater.org or 760-946-7001.

For those unable to attend, Today in Water will be broadcasted live on MWA's Facebook page. Visit www.mojavewater.org for more information.
