Erin Ward Submits Winning Water Conservation Video

Apple Valley, CA —Erin Ward of Pinon Hills is the winner of the Mojave Water Agency and Daily Press video contest for her home video on water conservation.

The contest was launched last month to encourage communities to continue to conserve water. The winning video successfully incorporated the themes of “Water conservation is a way of life” and “Together we can do this.”

Ward’s 38-second video promoted indoor water saving habits, as well as showcasing water conserving outdoor landscaping. Her first-place video earned her a $200 Visa gift card.

Taking second place was a submission by siblings Natalie and Noah La Ferriere of Apple Valley. The duo will receive a $100 Visa gift card. Timothy Tighe of Apple Valley earned a $50 gift card for his third-place entry.
