Strategic Partners application deadline looms

APPLE VALLEY, CA – Conservation is a collaborative effort, which is why the Mojave Water Agency supports local groups, communities, and agencies with Strategic Partnership conservation grants of up to $25,000.

The program reimburses participating entities for materials purchased in the course of completing water conservation-related projects.

Previously funded projects include: demonstration gardens designed to teach the public about native plants and water-wise gardening, wildlife ecosystem restoration projects, water-saving landscape renovations, scholarships for water-related classes and other water conservation projects and many more.

The application period for the next funding cycle closes Wednesday, March 29. Grant awardees will be announced in mid June. Any awards for this program will not be available until July 1, 2023, and all funds must be spent by June 30, 2024.

To apply, visit <https://www.mojavewater.org/conservation/awac/grants/> to download and fill out the Strategic Partnership Application Form.
